ProServe Solutions for Electrical Distribution:

ProServe Solutions has been providing electrical wholesale and distribution companies with Information Technology solutions since 1984. We have an experienced and knowledgeable staff that is well versed on the electrical supply business.

Simplifying high-volume purchasing, reducing bottlenecks in high-volume transaction environments, improving inventory management- these represent some of the toughest challenges electrical distributors tackle today. To win in the marketplace, they must play a strategic role in their customers' business, offer new services, expand geographically, or outsource core business processes to reduce costs.

ProServe Solutions has Inventory Management & Distribution solutions that can enable you to streamline your business by alleviating the problems of manually picking and stocking electrical items and helping manage product movement more efficiently. Sophisticated tools simplify the process of procuring and managing bids and jobs from concept to completion, synchronize job phasing, ensure better management of projects and costs, improve margins, and boost customer satisfaction.

ProServe Solutions represents computer software solutions from Infor which include:

Infor ERP (Wholesale and Distribution)—which address the distributor's specific requirements from order entry, inventory control, accounting, and sales to the warehouse and everywhere in between, helping to optimize customer service, inventory levels, productivity, and profitability.

Infor ERP's wholesale and distribution solutions help companies like yours:

- Expand into new customer segments
- Achieve and maintain higher service levels
- Lower costs of goods sold for higher operational margins
- Minimize inventories and reduce redundancies
- Increase collaboration with customers and suppliers
- Increase responsiveness and speed to market
